

Iraq Requests Arms, Planes from Britain

LONDON (UPI).—The Iraqi Government has requested arms and military planes from Britain, it was reliably learned on Monday. The request, made through diplomatic channels last month, was understood to be under careful consideration in London.

The Iraqi move, coinciding with a variety of Soviet aid offers, prompted diplomatic speculation that the regime was not thus far irrevocably bent on a Communist course. The request was understood to have been among the primary topics of discussion of the British envoy in Baghdad, Sir Humphrey Trevelyan, with Government officials here. He flew to London for a series of consultations about a fortnight ago and was expected to his post on April 28.

Officially, nothing is said of the Baghdad move, but well-informed sources said it included a demand for spare parts for arms delivered by Britain in the past. Britain was the chief arms supplier to Baghdad before the July revolution last year.

Planes Above All
Moreover, the request was for "replacements" of arms, including modern-type jets.

Moscow was understood to have offered the Baghdad regime some supplies of a varied kind following broadly the pattern of the well-known Soviet approach to Egypt. Observers felt that, despite these offers, Baghdad was still considering the possibility of Western arms. Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home was still resisting the country's adherence to the Soviet bloc.

Consequently, Britain has decided to adopt a more active attitude for a further trial period in the hope that the Western cause is not yet lost in Iraq.

Bevan Urges Halt Of Arms to Iraq

LONDON (AFP).—Mr. Aneurau Bevan and Mr. Denis Healey, Labour M.P.s, on Monday called for stoppage of British arms shipments to Iraq, following Iraq's decision to ban imports of Imperial Chemical Industries products.

Noting that Iraq gave as its reason for imposing the ban the fact that I.C.I. sells in Israel, Mr. Healey asked whether the Government would bar the sale of arms to Iraq by British firms who also exported arms to Israel.

The Minister of State at the Foreign Office, Mr. John Profumo, replied that I.C.I. which operates in Iraq has no connection whatsoever with Israel and is a completely separate firm from that which sells in Israel.

Washington, U.N. Posts to Be Split After Eban Leaves

The posts of Israel Ambassador to the U.N. will be filled by two individuals following the return of Ambassador Abba Eban. Foreign Minister Golda Meir said in Jerusalem on Monday afternoon to the members of the Israel Bond Second Decade Caravan from Philadelphia.

Until May 1959, Israel was represented in Washington by Mr. Eliahu Elath and at the U.N. by Mr. Eban. Mr. Elath was named as successor to Britain and Mr. Eban assumed both positions.

Answering a question by Mr. Maximilian Klinger, a member of the delegation, Mrs. Meir said that from now on the Government "will separate the two functions." She said the Ambassador "is not merely Ambassador to Washington, but also an Ambassador to the Jewish people."

She said the Ambassador "is not merely Ambassador to Washington, but also an Ambassador to the Jewish people."

Labour Lord Seeks Pledge for Israel

LONDON (Reuters).—Israel should be granted assurances of military and economic aid in case of threats of Arab action against her, Lord Henderson, Opposition Leader, declared Monday night in a House of Lords debate.

Lord Henderson declared: "So long as prevailing conditions in this area, Israel, which is the one stable democracy, should be enabled to assure itself that, should events bring about an attempt to rekindle another Arab-Israel conflict, Israel would not be denied military and economic strength to deter any aggression."

Earlier, Lord Henderson said there was little hope of stability in the Middle East. Nasser and Kassem were "dangerously at loggerheads," while Russia, at a distance, "played her intrigues" with the Israeli Communists, he added.

Doubtful of Nasser
Lord Henderson said some quarters in Britain thought that he should seek a quarrel with Nasser, establish friendly relations with him and adopt more understanding towards his aims.

"The question we have to ask is: would Nasser be a trustworthy friend?" he said. "Will he respect the independence of Arab states that do not want to be swallowed up in his Arab empire?"

Lord Home, Secretary for Commonwealth Relations, said that British policy in the Middle East was "in exact conformance to that of the Commonwealth."

"We do not want to take sides or to meddle in Arab internal policy," he said. "All we wish to see is a growing stability and economic expansion in that area. The territorial integrity of each country should be preserved and there should be no manipulated change."

U.K. Claims Mission Expected in Cairo

CAIRO (Reuters).—First members of a British mission to handle claims arising from the Suez dispute are expected to fly here as soon as visas are granted, perhaps this week.

Britain has accepted, with three reservations, conditions laid down by the United Arab Republic concerning the mission's functions, the influential newspaper, "Al-Ahram" said here on Monday.

Super-Mystere Fighter-Bomber To Fly on Independence Day

Jerusalem Post Military Correspondent

TEL AVIV. — The Super-Mystere fighter-bomber, the latest addition to the Israeli Air Force, will fly in the Independence Day Parade here next week. This was revealed here on Monday night, when the wraps were taken off the latest jet model of the Marcel Dassault Company, makers of Mysteres.

Since last year's parade, the Air Force has acquired and integrated into its battle order two new types of jet planes, the twin-engine Vautour and the Super-Mystere; both of them will fly in formation next Wednesday in the parade.

The Super-Mystere is quite different from its predecessor. It is heavier and longer and has a different type engine. It climbs faster, flies at a speed of 1,500 kilometers at 40,000 feet, and can break the sound barrier in level flight, without diving.

Its chief new feature, and that which gives it the extra "kick," is the after-burner situated on its tail.

The plane is regarded as a match for the MIG-17.

New Models 'Absorbed'

Both the Super-Mystere and the Vautour have been "absorbed" into the Israeli Air Force within the space of a year, practically without the assistance of foreign experts. This achievement is regarded in military circles as a remarkable testimonial to the high standards of technique maintained by the Air Force.

According to "The Observer's" Book of Aircraft, the specifications of the Super-Mystere are as follows:

Type: Single seat intercepter-fighter.
Speed: Maximum 573 m.p.h. at 10,000 feet, and 860 m.p.h. at 38,000 feet.
Ceiling: 55,750 feet.
Weight: 15,400 lbs. Laden — 19,500 lbs.
Armament: Two 30-mm. Decca cannon and unguided air-to-air missiles.

Dimensions: Span — 23 feet 9 inches; length — 46 feet; height — 15 feet.
History: First prototype of the Super-Mystere was flown on March 2, 1958. It went into production early in 1957. It is the first European fighter capable of supersonic speeds in level flight to go into mass production.

R.A.F. Rescue Team Gets Arms Drop

NICOSIA (Reuters).—A Royal Air Force rescue and salvage team on Monday received much-needed arms and ammunition — to fight off marauding wolves and bears — as they probed the wreckage of a British plane high on Turkey's 14,500-foot Mount Suphan.

The supplies were dropped from a Hastings aircraft that had been standing by at Diyarbakir, 150 miles southwest of the mountain, for three days waiting for the weather to clear.

The R.A.F. mountain men, toiling against fierce blizzards and the threat of avalanches, are investigating the wreckage of a British Tudor aircraft which crashed on April 23 with 12 men aboard near the Russian border between Ankara and Teheran.

Italian Strikers Clash with Police

TURIN, Italy (Reuters).—Strikers at a machine factory here clashed with police on Sunday night when demonstrating against colleagues who continued to work. Police dispersed the demonstrators with fire hoses and several people were detained for questioning.

The strikers had responded to a call for a 48-hour walk-out by Italy's Metalworkers' Unions. The strike is for higher wages and improved working conditions.

Israel Recommended For Share in SUNFED

UNITED NATIONS (Reuters).—Important projects in Israel, the United Arab Republic and Turkey were recommended Sunday night in the first $15m. operational programme of the Special U.N. Fund for Economic Development (SUNFED).

Mr. Paul Hoffman, the fund's Managing Director, will submit these proposals on May 26 to the fund's 18-member Governing Council, which has final authority to approve them.

The Israel share would be $20,000 for a pilot project in watershed management. Biggest proposed allocation is $15m. to expand the facilities of the Middle East Technical University at Ankara, Turkey.

Other proposed allocations include $300,000 for a pilot drainage project in Egypt's Nile Valley, and $255,000 for a soil survey from aerial photographs in the U.A.R.

Strong Earth Tremors Placed in Siberia

LONDON (Reuters).—Strong tremors were recorded on Monday at seven widely-separated observatories, with the most powerful shaking the northern Pacific, near the Siberian Kamchatka Peninsula, as the centre of the disturbance.

Seismograph stations in Britain, France, Italy, Holland, Japan and the U.S. all recorded the tremors within a space of 11 minutes at about 0730 GMT (9.30 a.m. local time). Estimates of the intensity of the tremors ranged from "moderate" to "very violent."

The Prato, Italy, Observatory said the quake seemed to be of the eighth or ninth degree on the 10-degree Mercalli Scale, meaning it was "ruinous" or "disastrous."

Soudelle Heading Mission to Israel

PARIS (INA).—The French Minister of State, M. Jacques Soudelle, is to head a study mission to the Negev shortly to investigate methods of exploitation in comparison with those used in the Sahara. At the same time, a delegation of Israeli experts will visit the Sahara to learn how deep waters there are exploited, as well as the nomad populations.

At a celebration marking Israel's 10th anniversary held in Paris on Sunday night at the Palais de Chaillot, Ambassador Jacob Tsaur paid special tribute to France as the nation which a few years ago helped the new state to break out of the diplomatic isolation in which it found itself.

Saud Grooms Hussein On Safe Return

AMMAN (Reuters).—King Hussein of Jordan on Monday returned home from a six-week visit to Saudi Arabia, congratulating him on his safe return from a six-week visit to Saudi Arabia, congratulating him on his safe return from a six-week visit to Saudi Arabia.

Hussein, cabling his thanks, expressed the hope of a meeting with King Saud.

Empress of Ethiopia Here

By CHRIS ELIOU, Jerusalem Post Reporter

Her Imperial Majesty Empress Mahen of Ethiopia, wife of Emperor Haile Selassie, crossed into Israel at Mandelbaum Gate, Jerusalem, on Monday morning for a private visit.

The Empress, who arrived in the old city last week to take part in Orthodox Easter observances, was driven to the middle of a no-man's-land in a limousine.

Her entourage included her eldest daughter, Her Imperial Highness Princess Tegnene Wrota, her grand-daughter, Princess Sophia Desta, the Minister of the Ethiopian Royal Court, His Excellency Tebehi Derasa Tafari Wrota, and the Imperial Court Chaplain, Rev. Abba Hanna Jima.

As Jordanian and Israeli police looked on, the royal visitor was greeted on behalf of the Government by Mr. Michael Comay, Assistant Director-General of the Foreign Ministry.

She was also welcomed by Mayor Gershon Agnon, Mr. S.E. Yeshaya, Jerusalem District Representative, Commander Yosef Peleg, District Police Commander, Rav-Seren Y. Freed, Acting Presidential Aide, and by Mrs. Yehudith Beilin, of the Foreign Ministry, who will accompany the Empress during her visit.

The Empress was attired in a grey dress and black hat with a white veil. Flanked by a police motorcycle escort, she was driven to the King (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

Newsman Pelt USSR Embassy In Rangoon

RANGOON (Reuters).—Rangoon newspaper reporters pelted the Soviet Embassy with tomatoes on Monday and the Russians countered with chairs, injuring two reporters.

Three reporters were dragged inside the Embassy garden and two cameras were seized.

About 40 reporters took part in the demonstration, staged because of the strong-arm methods against reporters employed by Russian Embassy personnel on Sunday at Mingaladon airport, when Colonel Mikhail Strygin, Soviet Military Attaché in Burma, was flown out of the country.

Sunday's trouble at the airport developed when reporters attempted to interview Colonel Strygin, who last week took an overdose of sleeping pills and then attempted to leap to his death from a hospital window after being admitted for treatment.

Reporters and photographers were roughly treated and cameras were smashed by Russian Embassy employees at the airport. Col. Strygin was hustled aboard a Chinese airliner bound for Kunming.

The Burma Journalists Association, composed of leading editors, said on Monday it was making arrangements for a blackout of Soviet publicity releases in protest against the rough treatment of Burmese reporters.

Churchill Arrives For U.S. Visit

NEW YORK (Reuters).—Sir Winston Churchill arrived here by air on Monday from London for a private visit to President Eisenhower.

Meanwhile, in Washington, the White House said that former President Harry S. Truman had accepted an invitation from President Eisenhower to have dinner at the White House on Wednesday with Sir Winston.

The former President, who is in Washington until Wednesday afternoon, sent his regrets because of a previous engagement that night in New York.

Nations Honours Memory Of Victims of Holocaust

Thousands gathered throughout the country yesterday at solemn ceremonies which opened observance of the Holocaust and Heroism Memorial Day.

A six-branched candelabra was lit on Mt. Zion in Jerusalem in the afternoon. At kibbutz Ma'ale Hahamisha, in the Jerusalem Corridor, Foreign Minister Golda Meir and the Polish Minister, Dr. Antoni Bida, attended a memorial ceremony dedicated to Eliezer Geller, one of the leaders of the Warsaw Ghetto revolt.

Mrs. Meir declared that we must not allow the Holocaust or the courage of the Jewish fighters and ghetto heroes to fade from our memories. The Foreign Minister thanked the present Polish Government for its efforts to prevent anti-Semitism and for understanding that those who survived should be allowed to rejoin their brethren in Israel.

Dr. Bida declared that all Poles bow their heads in respect to the Jewish martyrs. "We are duty bound before history to use every ounce of our strength to prevent a new atomic holocaust — this is the last will of the ghetto dead," declared Dr. Bida.

In Tel Aviv, some 2,000 former ghetto fighters, members of guerrilla and resistance movements and veterans of the Allied armies gathered at Man Auditorium, where addresses were made by Mayor Haim Levanon, Tel Aviv Chief Rabbi Untermyer and Mr. Shalom Chovalsky, a partisan leader.

Earlier, they marched behind national banners draped in black from Kikar Ma'aleh Israel through Frishman and Dizengoff streets. The march

Soviets Tell Japan: Scrap U.S. Bases

TOKYO (Reuters).—The Soviet Union on Monday demanded that Japan should abolish U.S. military bases in Japan and adopt neutrality for the sake of peace in the Far East.

In a note delivered to the Japanese Foreign Ministry, the Soviet Government said the existence of American military bases in Japan was a menace to peace in the Far East. It would be wise for an overpopulated Japan to take a neutralist stand in world politics the note said.

India's Policy Still To Coexist—Nehru

NEW DELHI. — Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament on Monday that India will pursue her political policy of non-alignment and peaceful co-existence, with no military alliances, in spite of events in Tibet.

He also told a questioner that India's support for China's admittance to the U.N. would remain unchanged. Nearly 8,000 Tibetan refugees have so far been granted asylum in India, he disclosed.

The Prime Minister was replying to a debate on Tibet, held in spite of protests by the Communists. Mr. Nehru said, "Non-alignment is a positive concept. We do not propose to have a military alliance with any country, come what may."

He added: "It is sometimes said that we should have a joint defence policy with Pakistan. I am all for settling our troubles with Pakistan and living normal friendly and neighbourly lives. But I do not understand when people talk about a common defence policy."

Against whom? Are we to become members of the Baghdad Pact or Sato or something? We do not want to have a common defence policy which is some kind of military alliance."

He said India stood by the five principles of coexistence, even if no one else did. "But it is a tragedy for Tibet and an even deeper tragedy for many of us that something we have laboured for and something that may be said to be enshrined in Panch sheila (the five principles) jointly proclaimed by India and China, or in the Bandung principles has suffered very considerably in people's minds."

"There is uneasiness that something like this might slip away. Words like Bandung and Panch sheila begin to sound 'disastrous'."

Fertilizer Exports to Japan

Herald Closer Trade Relations

Jerusalem Post Economic Reporter

The planned export of 60,000 tons of phosphates to Japan in 1959 and the possibility of a number of Japanese investments in Israel industry were announced to the press on Monday by senior officials in the Ministries of Commerce and Industry and of Finance and by the Economic Counsellor at the Israel Legation in Tokyo.

They were summing up the visit, just concluded, of five Japanese financial leaders.

Mr. S. Levin, of the Tokyo Legation, emphasized that economic circles in Japan view joint ventures with Israel with great interest. The President of the Japanese Export-Import Bank expressed readiness during his stay in Israel to commit his bank to participation in the expansion of the Timna Copper Works.

A scheme is under consideration to repay the projected investment of between $20 and $30 million through future fertilizer exports to Japan.

Other projects for direct investments by Japanese firms are in the metal, textile and chemical industries, Mr. Levin said.

Mr. Levin estimated Israel exports to Japan during the current year at $15m, growing to $20m, to $40m, in 1960 and to $50m, to $60m, in 1961.

New Shipping Line

The Director General of the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Mr. M. Taur, said that trade prospects with Japan have improved with the inauguration of a new shipping line from Israel to Japan and then to West Africa and back to Israel. Israel's relative advantage over competitors in the supply of fertilizers is based on efficient and cheap shipping between the two countries.

Mr. Taur declared that despite the fact that Japanese equipment costs 20 to 40 per cent less than comparable American and European equipment, it will take some time before our industrialists get used to it. In this connection it was announced that the Government has opened a consulting bureau in Tel Aviv where industrialists will be able to get information on prices and the relative merits of equipment from different sources. Heading the new bureau is Mr. A. Imperator, Director of the Technical Department of the Shikim Corporation, who is familiar with U.S. German and Japanese machinery.

Dr. Zvi Dinstein, the Controller of Foreign Currency, explained that although a Japanese firm expressed interest in the proposed Haifa shipyard, it was decided to accept a European offer because of the difference in work methods between the two and the language difficulties which would limit efficient cooperation in such a venture where many foreign experts would be employed.

Bulk Handling of Chemicals in Kishon

HAIFA.—A 10-dunam area in the Kishon Harbour has been leased by the Port Authority for 25 years to a Chemical Tankers and Terminals Ltd., a firm specializing in bulk handling of liquid and liquefiable chemicals.

The company, directed by Moshe and Shmuel Yohannan, will set up storage tanks, pumps, pipes, a workshop, heating and cooling systems for liquefying and solidifying chemicals in bulk, and a quay.

Cost is an approved enterprise and its investment capital is nearly IL1m, about half of it in hard currency. The Government put up IL380,000 and local investors IL150,000.

Bulk handling of chemicals in a liquid state can result in considerable savings over the use of containers, the company states. About 4,000 tons have already been handled in bulk, most of it imports.

Some of the facilities will be completed by the end of July, and the rest within a year.

Yadin to Lecture in Ivy League

Jerusalem Post Reporter

During his two-month tour, Dr. Yadin will also deliver several lectures at the invitation of various American universities, including Princeton, Harvard and Yale.

In the early part of June, Dr. Yadin will be awarded an honorary doctorate from Brandeis University.

First Bible Ever Set in Israel

Jerusalem Post Reporter

A ceremonial presentation of the first Pentateuch ever set and printed in Israel was made yesterday in the Jerusalem Municipality in the presence of distinguished guests and scholars.

"We certainly have had complaints against our people, but there is one complaint they could justly aim at us until recently," Mayor Agmon said in his opening remarks. "They could accuse us of neglecting Bible study and scholarship—but this is no longer the case. In the Hebrew Bible, we have returned to Israel."

After surveying the chief landmarks in the printing of the Bible in Hebrew, carried out by Gentiles, Mayor Agmon commended the Keren Bible project, which has just published the first volume—the Pentateuch of a complete Hebrew Bible which will be the first to be actually set in Israel, previous editions having been printed by photo-lithography from missionary and other texts. The publisher, Mr. Eliahu Kornfeld of the Keren Press, has also designed a new type face for this Bible.

The text, as was explained by Prof. N. Tur-Sinai, head of the Hebrew Language Academy, Prof. Chaim Rabin of the Hebrew University, and Mr. A. M. Haberman who supervised the editing

Brazilian Envoy Accredited

Jerusalem Post Reporter

Brazil's first Ambassador to Israel, the first woman to be appointed Ambassador by a South American country, Miss Odette de Carvalho e Sousa, yesterday presented her credentials to the President, Ben-Zvi at Beit Hannezi in Jerusalem.

Wearing a green and red print dress with green and gold pumps and a green and gold sash, she walked to the entrance of Beit Hannezi as a platoon of women soldiers in green uniforms, some of them carrying rifles, accompanied her.

Afterwards, from the veranda of the King David Hotel, the Ambassador reviewed the Chech women as they marched past to the music of a military police band.

As her first official act, Miss de Carvalho received one of the girl soldiers, Sophia Tarajabsky, who came from Brazil three years ago.

The ceremony at Beit Hannezi was attended by Foreign Minister Golda Meir and senior Ministry officials.

Detained Policeman Brought to Court

TEL AVIV.—After 44 days of administrative arrest, Police Sergeant Eliahu Cohen, suspected of dealing in narcotics, was brought to court yesterday. Police asked for a 15-day detention order.

Magistrate Y. Treivish, however, issued a detention order only until Tuesday afternoon. The Magistrate granted the request of the accused, questioning the head of Tel Aviv's Detective Bureau on the witness stand on Tuesday in connection with the request for the detention order.

Last Thursday, the Supreme Court granted a writ of habeas corpus to the accused, calling on the Inspector General of Police to show cause why Sergeant Cohen should not be brought to court and duly charged.

Kinneret Fish Not Poisoned

TIBERIAS.—The fish that were reported to have died in Lake Kinneret earlier this week as a result of the anti-loose spraying in the area were not killed by the insecticide, Dr. A. Yachub of the Ministry of Agriculture Fishing Division declared on Monday.

He said that the fish apparently died from a lack of oxygen in the water that resulted from the change in temperature in the Lake.

Teapot Tempest Over Napoleon's Coat

By YACOV ARDON

Jerusalem Post Reporter

HAIFA.—The mantle of Napoleon, dead these 138 years, is still flapping in the breeze of local politics. After the enterprising general had defeated the Mamluks at the foot of the Pyramids, he marched into Palestine, called on the Jewish population to proclaim a Jewish state, and left his coat to a Jerusalem family. The coat was later turned into a cupola for an Ark of the Law.

A descendant of the family, Mr. Yehayahu Louna, loaned the relic to the Haifa Museum of Ethnology and Folklore. Together with the Association Amicale Israel-France, the museum sent out invitations for a ceremony at which Napoleon's mantle would be displayed before the Haifa public. Lectures were scheduled by the Association's chairman, Mr. B. Gurevitch, on "Napoleon in Palestine," and by the museum curator, Dr. D. Noy, on "Napoleon in Jewish Folklore."

Lydda Jet Service Awaits Runways

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV.—Trans-World Airlines would fly its long-range Boeing-707 jets to Lydda in early next year, if the airport were able to accommodate them, Mr. E. W. Frankfurt, TWA General Manager in Israel, told The Jerusalem Post on Monday.

(Ei) Al has not yet decided whether to purchase jets, and adaptation of the airport will probably be held up until it does.

Several weeks ago a committee of representatives of the U.S. Civil Aeronautics Board and TWA visited Lydda to examine the airport, and in its report to the Israel Government pointed out that the runways were inadequate for long-range jet aircraft.

TWA hoped to fly its Boeing 707s to Lydda with one stopover either in Rome or Paris. The flight to Rome would take two and a half hours and another six-and-a-half hours to New York.

Alliance Tire Co. Doubling Output

HADERA.—Plans for the immediate doubling of production capacity at the Alliance Tire plant were announced here on Monday at a company luncheon by Mr. Arthur Taubman, President of the firm. The American businessman also told the workers that the directors were setting up an education fund for their children.

Mr. Taubman predicted that with an additional $20 to $25m, the factory would soon be producing 7,500 tons of rubber products annually, as compared to 4,500 tons last year.

Formal announcement of the plans will be made next week after the annual board meeting of the company.

Directors also present at the meeting were Messrs. Ben Kravitz, Maurice Sandstein, Harry K. and Mrs. Hayman Stein.

Unemployment Down

The average daily number of unemployed in the week ending April 24 was 4,615, according to statistics of the Ministry of Labour.

This was 4,225 less than during the same period last year.

Of the unemployed, 3,397 were unskilled workers and 1,219 were women.

Strike Over Pay Of Welfare Case

The Jerusalem Labour Council called the seven employees of the Haimon bookbinding plant out on strike on Monday morning to press the firm's management to "sign a labour contract guaranteeing the workers a fair wage."

The Council claims that one employee, a family man with 14 years' service, receives a gross monthly wage of only IL140.

The management of the bindery stated on Monday that, with one exception, their workers are paid wages comparable to those of all other bindery workers in Jerusalem.

The one exception was indeed being paid IL140 a month, and his employment had been continued for years more as a social welfare measure than because of his value to the firm, which is very low.

to lose their shine and lose their meaning."

Charges made in China against India of "expansionism" and "imperialism" had shocked him beyond measure. "The Chinese charges do not stand the slightest scrutiny," he declared, and added that "coming from those we consider friends, they do hurt."

In Peking, however, speakers stepped up attacks against India but maintained at the same time that China wanted the friendship of its giant neighbour.

The attacks, broadcast by the New China News Agency, came as Chinese youth leaders gathered in Peking on the 40th anniversary of the "May 4 movement"—a popular protest movement against the colonial powers following World War One.

It probably the strongest attacks to date against Premier Nehru, the Chinese accused him of distorting facts of the Tibetan revolution, violating the five principles of peaceful co-existence and interfering in China's internal affairs in his April 27 speech before the Indian Parliament.

Hadera Hospital

HADERA.—A hospital named after Dr. Hillel Yaffe was inaugurated in Hadera on Monday with the opening of a 30-bed children's ward by the Minister of Health, Mr. Israel Barsilai. The new hospital, which is housed in wooden barracks in its first stage consists of pediatric, maternity and gynecology, internal medicine, and surgical wards. When it is completed in 1961 it will contain 100 beds. Dr. Yaffe, who died in 1906, pioneered public health service in Samaria at the turn of the century.

'Would Dissolve Mapai for Unity'

Jerusalem Post Reporter

BEERSHEBA.—Prime Minister Ben-Gurion told an audience of over 1,000 here last evening that he would be willing to dissolve Mapai on condition that the leaders of the other two labour parties help him form a strong united workers' party.

The Prime Minister was opening Mapai's Histadrut election campaign here. Before his arrival an overflow crowd tried to squeeze into the Keren Cinema which only holds 1,500. Police were called to restore order after several doors collapsed under the press. There were no disturbances during Mr. Ben-Gurion's speech, however.

Mr. Ben-Gurion devoted most of his speech to an attack on the multi-party system as opposed to the two parties which sufficed in Europe. He also charged that the opposition parties in the Histadrut were not so much parties as sects.

Brazilian Envoy Accredited

Jerusalem Post Reporter

Brazil's first Ambassador to Israel, the first woman to be appointed Ambassador by a South American country, Miss Odette de Carvalho e Sousa, yesterday presented her credentials to the President, Ben-Zvi at Beit Hannezi in Jerusalem.

Wearing a green and red print dress with green and gold pumps and a green and gold sash, she walked to the entrance of Beit Hannezi as a platoon of women soldiers in green uniforms, some of them carrying rifles, accompanied her.

Afterwards, from the veranda of the King David Hotel, the Ambassador reviewed the Chech women as they marched past to the music of a military police band.

As her first official act, Miss de Carvalho received one of the girl soldiers, Sophia Tarajabsky, who came from Brazil three years ago.

The ceremony at Beit Hannezi was attended by Foreign Minister Golda Meir and senior Ministry officials.

Unemployment Down

The average daily number of unemployed in the week ending April 24 was 4,615, according to statistics of the Ministry of Labour.

This was 4,225 less than during the same period last year.

Of the unemployed, 3,397 were unskilled workers and 1,219 were women.

Strike Over Pay Of Welfare Case

The Jerusalem Labour Council called the seven employees of the Haimon bookbinding plant out on strike on Monday morning to press the firm's management to "sign a labour contract guaranteeing the workers a fair wage."

The Council claims that one employee, a family man with 14 years' service, receives a gross monthly wage of only IL140.

The management of the bindery stated on Monday that, with one exception, their workers are paid wages comparable to those of all other bindery workers in Jerusalem.

The one exception was indeed being paid IL140 a month, and his employment had been continued for years more as a social welfare measure than because of his value to the firm, which is very low.

to lose their shine and lose their meaning."

Charges made in China against India of "expansionism" and "imperialism" had shocked him beyond measure. "The Chinese charges do not stand the slightest scrutiny," he declared, and added that "coming from those we consider friends, they do hurt."

In Peking, however, speakers stepped up attacks against India but maintained at the same time that China wanted the friendship of its giant neighbour.

The attacks, broadcast by the New China News Agency, came as Chinese youth leaders gathered in Peking on the 40th anniversary of the "May 4 movement"—a popular protest movement against the colonial powers following World War One.

It probably the strongest attacks to date against Premier Nehru, the Chinese accused him of distorting facts of the Tibetan revolution, violating the five principles of peaceful co-existence and interfering in China's internal affairs in his April 27 speech before the Indian Parliament.

THE adding of a new day of mourning to the official calendar eleven years after the establishment of the State and DAY OF 15 after Hitler's German many was a move to explain. If the holocaust brought about by the Nazis was of such tragic dimensions, cutting so deep a furrow on the sorrow-ridden face of Jewish history, why did the State of Israel keep silent for the past eleven years?

One may be cynical about it and see the reason in the personal change at the helm of Yad va-Shem, the organization whose aim it is to study what had happened during those fateful years in Europe. Explain, if possible, why the Nazis were able to exterminate millions of human beings and why more Jews did not stage at least hopeless revolts, such as were immortalized in Warsaw. Yad va-Shem has been directed, since its beginning, by Prof. Ben-Zion Dinur, former Minister of Education, who had given the institution the slant of a scholarly mind. This attitude was gloriously represented by certain Jewish bodies which maintain a say in the matter, because they were established by people who went through this particular hell. There are at least two kibbutzim in this country which are named after heroes of the Jewish resistance in Poland, Lohamei Hageta'ot in Western Galilee, and Yad Mordechai in the South. Lohamei Hageta'ot have established a museum of Nazi horrors. There were always some who regretted that the story of Nazi inhumanity was being forgotten, and that the children who had never known it in this country could not even imagine how bad it was. It was an injustice to the millions who were martyred, they said, that their sufferings should be forgotten within a generation.

There was, of course, a political undertone to all this, the two kibbutzim being affiliated to parties who are in rivalry with the ruling party. Mapai, Dr. Arie Kubov, the newly appointed head of Yad va-Shem, is also a member of Mapai, but he both has more for political issues, and more willingness to compromise than his predecessor. He readily agreed that Yad va-Shem should become a "popular" organization, whose aim it would be to retain the memory of the dead.

It is understood that Dr. Kubov does not want Yad va-Shem to be a research organization. In fact, all the staff has been retained. However, Dr. Kubov would like the research to be conducted with a definite aim in mind, namely with a view to showing that the accepted picture of Jews incapable of reacting at all, and going almost willingly to be wiped out without resistance, is not the true one.

One problem which Yad va-Shem will have to deal with is the recording of the names of the victims. The efforts of Yad va-Shem have so far resulted in a list of a million and a half names. Obviously, Yad va-Shem has not reached Jews everywhere who could give the names of their families who perished in Europe. It is clear how these lists can be printed, owing to the great expense involved.

Meanwhile the new director of Yad va-Shem has succeeded in persuading the Government and Knesset to proclaim a formal day of mourning. Whether the population will follow the Knesset lead, is another question. There is, however, political wisdom in reminding this nation that they are not independent. Many Gentiles and some Israelis are ready to accept a certain amount of self-effacement; and there can be no reason for Israelis to do likewise. However, it is well to remind these Israelis that they are part of a great people which has suffered much, and whose temporal abode outside its own land has, at least in the past, been subjected to the bestiality of casual rulers whose purposes Jews are unable to con-

Mao's Right-Hand Man Takes Over

New Chinese Chairman Preserves Continuity of Militant Ideology

By RICHARD LOWENTHAL

LONDON (CPNS).—The election of Liu Shao-chi to succeed Mao Tse-tung as Chairman of the Chinese People's Republic is an event of the greatest significance for the future of Communist China and of the Sino-Soviet alliance.

Last December, when Mao first announced his intention to resign his position as Chairman of State, some people on the West coast concluded that his influence had suffered an eclipse following the severe economic difficulties caused by the precipitate reorganization of the whole Chinese countryside in the new "communes."

When it became apparent that Mao was retaining his decisive policy-making positions as Chairman of the Communist Party and that his role as a political guide of the destinies of 600,000,000 Chinese was more isolated than ever, there was a natural rashly conclusion that his influence had suffered an eclipse following the severe economic difficulties caused by the precipitate reorganization of the whole Chinese countryside in the new "communes."

Now something quite different has happened in Peking. For the man Mao has chosen as his successor in the supreme State post has long been his right-hand man in maintaining the unity and purity of the ruling Party—a man whose name has infinitely more meaning for the Party cadres than the name of the man who has been chosen to succeed him.

AT THE CINEMA
Another War Picture
The roles of the usual war picture are reversed in Kings Go Forth (Orion). By making the officer and the flippant college-boy the sergeant, but even the somewhat forced introduction of the colour-bar does not make it more than one of those war pictures of which one is somewhat tired 14 years after V-Day. The only bright spot is the performance of the three protagonists, Danny Kaye, Curt Jurgens and Akim Tamiroff.

Polish Trinity
Jacobovskiy and the Colonel have been reviewed so thoroughly before that there remains only the duty to praise the performance of the three protagonists, Danny Kaye, Curt Jurgens and Akim Tamiroff.

Gripping War Hoax
I was Monty's Double (Cine). A. A. is an exciting and well-made picture directed by John Guillermin which describes the trick played on Hitler by British Intelligence in 1944 when a substitute General Montgomery was sent to North Africa to divert attention from the Normandy coast.

True Escape Story
The Colditz Story (Allenby, T.A., 2nd week) is another war film based on actual events. Directed by Guy Hamilton, with John Mills and Eric Portman in the leading roles, the story recounts how the escape of Allied prisoners was effected, the underlying moral being that cooperation and organization plus the will to succeed can achieve seemingly impossible tasks. The action is well handled so that suspense is sustained, but the film lacks the tempo of the "Monty" story; nevertheless it is a gripping film.

Adopted son Jason (Yul Brynner in a chestnut-coloured wig) sets out to restore the family name and fortune with special emphasis on saving the young girl of the house (Joanne Woodward). She is the illegitimate daughter of the Compton sister (Margaret Leighton) who abandoned her at the age of one day. The girl longs for love and love and falls for a member of a travelling circus (Stuart Whitman). More returns but her character prevents her giving her daughter the affection and help she really wants to bestow. ## Nasser Warned To Stop Attacks

Lansdown (Abdus Hammad) avers that the infiltration attack on the Metulla bus was timed to coincide with Dr. Bunch's visit to the U.A.R. belligerency on the border as well as in the Canal. The paper warns that Israel will frustrate this design in both sectors.

Habaker (General Zionist) returns to an analysis of Nasser's use of tension in a renewed attempt to recoup his waning prestige, both in the Arab world and at home, but hopes that he will be able to overcome an impulsiveness that can do him no good.

Davar (Histadrut) writes that it is not for us to explain why Dr. Bunch came away empty-handed on the Suez issue; we can only hope that he will exert more effort toward a final settlement.

Pointing out that abortive programmes, designed to nationalize exports by putting them in the hands of "Approved Export Companies," can do nothing to heal our ailing trade and that the only way we can increase our exports is by diplomatic activity to secure the inclusion of Israel in the European economic bloc.

Regulations for hikers and outings in the view of Haaretz (non-party), are not enough unless they are backed by powerful sanctions. If public opinion does not suffice to instill safe considerations of safety, leaders of excursions must be made criminally responsible for any mishap.

Haaretz (World Agoda) states that there is no way to frustrate designs to desecrate the Day of Rest by the children of the Sabbath than by a well-planned steady and organized protest.

these regular study groups, many elementary and secondary school teachers, as well as other members of the public, find interest in the Institute and make use of it. The Institute also loans instructive exhibits to schools.

It is desirable that educational and cultural institutions and the public at large should give their support to this important Institute, enabling it to serve the hundreds of teachers and thousands of pupils who clamour for its facilities.

FOREIGN PAPERS
Editor, The Jerusalem Post
Sir.—In your issue of April 19 "Depositor" complained that when requesting $116.10 from his foreign currency account for payment of his annual subscription to "The Times Literary Supplement," he had to fill out an application to the Treasury since the clerk was in doubt whether this paper came under the heading of scientific or professional literature.

We should like to point out that instructions were issued to banks to require application to be made to the Treasury only in cases where the bank is in doubt about a specific request. The original intention was to permit the import of a variety of literature, in accordance with the public requirements, without unnecessary formalities. As to your correspondent's request that the sum of $50 be increased to $75, experience has shown that the former sum meets the demand and the Treasury therefore does not see any point in making a change.
